

Cosmic Law Came Before Divine Law

Canon, Kosher and Sharia came after the basis of divine law was established by the three hundred exiled souls of celestial Shamabhala or the exiled indigo's in the blackness of deep space. Cosmic law it will never be defeated, revolted against or couped. Cosmic law is everlasting and it will live on forever. When you think about it more in depth the Illuminati which was an inside job to the Freemasons just like 9/11 was an inside job to the Freemasons because they wanted it to be that way from the very beginning whereas the Illuminati was because run by the divine women of the world and the divine men ran the Freemasons. In that regard this means that most of these religious movements on had a primary set of ideas perpetuated by a secret set of ideas.

Aside from the fact that religion was primarily on the divine model which was innovated from the cosmic and not the other way around and it was illegal for the divine to innovate against the cosmic system seeing as it's inscribed on unbending filaments that any innovations made against the celestial universe and it's original creators would be a high crime under cosmic law.

Another thing I should add with that is this business with the anonymous and synonymous red/green alliance on earth was a mix between the divine and sharia systems making moves on us cosmic souls so they could manifest a total coup and revolution against the celestial universe they need to target us cosmic souls with electromagnetic weapons and electronic telepathy attacks that mimicked the effects of schizophrenia and depression in us. The directed energy attacks complimented the existence of the electronic telepathic attacks which was a mix of the citizens initiatives and the government that worked as one unit because the citizens were under the mind control of government employees who did drugs while using EMF based technologies at the same time and the human energy particles that carried the biological and physiological attributions of those employees found it's way into the citizens under wiretap or via an evil twin attack who became instruments against all of us cosmic souls on earth.
